Arnold E. Orner Succeeds His Father As President Of South Mountain Fair; Dates Are Set

Arnold E. Orner, cashier of the Arendtsville National bank, was elected president of the South Mountain Fair association Monday evening at a reorganization meeting held in the Arendtsville grade school center.

His father, P. S. Orner, president of the association since before the war, was named honorary president and given a rising vote of thanks for his "splendid work" for the organization over the period of years. A similar vote was given all other past officers.

Other officers named Monday were: Robert C. Lott, Aspers R. D., first vice president; George Schriver, Bendersville, second vice president; Clarence J. Waybright, Gettysburg R. 2, third vice president; Harvey B. Raffensperger, Arendtsville, secretary; W. Clayton Jester, Biglerville star route, assistant secretary; Elmer W. Warren, Springs avenue, trust officer of the First National bank of Gettysburg, treasurer; David Houck, Arendtsville, assistant treasurer.

P. S. ORNER

Set Fair Dates

The officers were elected by having the secretary cast a ballot after Roy Heckenluber, of the nominating committee, made his report. Heckenluber, pointing out that nearly a complete list of new officers had been presented, said, "the committee felt it would not be fair to ask the old officers who served so well for so long to continue carrying all of the burden connected with the work."

After much discussion the group decided to "buck" the York fair rather than the peach or apple seasons and will hold the fair this year September 15, 16, 17 and 18. The

NO CANDIDATES FOR 100 POSTS ON COMMITTEES

Adams county voters will have to fill 100 places on the Republican and Democrat county committees either by sticker campaigns or write-in votes at the forthcoming April primary.

That fact was revealed today when petitions of candidates for county committee posts were docketed at the office of the county election board. Monday was the last day for filing petitions for places on the ballot. About 150 filed.

Forty-seven Republican posts are begging at the primary while the Democrats will have 53 blank spaces to fill.

GOP Contests

However battles are being waged for both Republican chairman and vice chairman, with John H. Basehore, the incumbent, and George W. Naugle, Gettysburg insurance agent, both contending for the chairmanship. Mrs. Esther M. Hayberger, 3 Liberty street and Mrs. Ethel Tipton, 241 York street, have filed for vice chairman of the Republican county committee.

On the Republican ticket there are no candidates for committee posts in Hamilton township No. 2, in none of the three districts into which Mt. Pleasant township is divided. Arendtsville, Bendersville, Germany, Highland, Mt. Joy, Oxford, Tyrone Number 2 and Union. The Republicans name three committeemen or women from each district. Abbottstown, Biglerville, Franklin, Hamilton No. 1, Huntington No. 1, Littlestown first ward, and Straban all need one additional candidate to secure their three nominees. Butler, and Menallen need two each.

The Democrats name two committeemen or women from some districts and two men and one woman from other districts. The records show no candidates for committee-woman posts in Conewago, Franklin, German, Gettysburg first ward second precinct, Gettysburg third ward, Littlestown first ward, Mt. Joy, Mt. Pleasant No. 3, Oxford and Straban townships. Reading has a woman candidate but no men seeking the committeeman jobs. Nearly every district is short in nominees for Democratic committee posts.

Some Contests
There are some "fights" for posts, with a few districts having more candidates than positions to fill. That situation holds true for the Republicans in all of the Gettysburg districts with the exception of the third ward and in Hamilton, Fairfield, Reading, Latmore and York Springs.

In Gettysburg first ward, first precinct, the GOP candidates are John C. Shealer, Ruth E. Jacobs, E. Blanche Minter and Myrtle Shriver. The contestants in Gettysburg first ward, second precinct are Samuel Weiser, Mahlon P. Hartzell, Miriam T. Daley, Caroline L. Snyder and Ethel Tipton. In Gettysburg

PLAN TO PAINT EXTERIOR OF HIGH SCHOOL

The Gettysburg school board, at its regular March meeting Monday night in the office of Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, superintendent of schools, adopted recommendations of its property committee to have the entire exterior woodwork of the high school painted this year and to have the rooms in the north wing of the high school building painted and a windowsill repaired.

These recommendations were made by the property committee following an inspection of the building:

1. More heat is needed in the shower rooms under the gymnasium, and the committee recommended the removal of insulation of the heating pipes.
2. There has been too much heat in the gymnasium during basketball games, but the committee said that the heat cannot be turned off after the bleachers are down. Janitors will be instructed to turn off part of the heat before lowering the bleachers.

Other Recommendations
3. None of the class rooms in the

For Charity Fund

Mahlon P. Hartzell, Jr., program chairman, said that 1,200 printed programs will be distributed on the two evenings of the show and that his committee has begun the solicitation of advertisements for the program.

Kenneth P. Hull, chairman of the activities committee that is in charge of general arrangements for the show, told of progress being made with the selection of the cast with several specialty numbers yet to be secured. He said approximately 40 members of the club already have parts in preparation for the show. The proceeds from the two-night minstrel will go into the club's charity fund.

A three-cornered contest for the Republican nomination for the state senate from the Adams-Franklin district was revealed today with the filing of petitions in Harrisburg by an Adams county and a resident of Chambersburg.

URGES ROTARY CLUB TO BACK APPLE TAX BILL

Gettysburg's Rotarians were urged to use their influence "to get the apple tax bill passed" Monday evening at the annual rural-urban meeting of the local Rotary held at the YWCA.

Frederic E. Griest, Flora Dale, past president of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, made the recommendation at the conclusion of a report on the fruit situation pointing out that "we need the apple tax to help ourselves."

The suggested state tax of one cent on each bushel of apples raised for commercial use will provide funds for advertising and research in connection with Pennsylvania apples. The bill was defeated at the last session of the Legislature, "not through active dislike of the bill, but because of lack of interest in the state Senate," Griest reported. Another attempt to have the bill passed will be made at the next session of the state Legislature.

Cites Cost Problems

One field in which research is needed is in packaging, Griest said. "At present it costs too much to package the fruit, and that is one way in which costs can be lowered. The apple is the oldest known fruit and it will wriggle through some way and continue to be a popular fruit, but we will have to discover cheaper ways of producing them."

"The best way to reduce apple

Simmons, accompanied by Sheriff B. W. Spence and other officials and policemen, was taken from the court house to the sheriff's car immediately outside the court house for the trip to Harrisburg. The sheriff found something "new had been added" to his car. The left front fender of the car was crushed against the wheel, and other damage had occurred to the front of the vehicle.

China's Inflation Breaks All Records
Shanghai, March 9 (AP)—Inflation's dizzy spiral broke all records in China today, just a week after American relief measures had been applied in six major cities.

Despite food rationing, introduced last week, the price of rice shot up to an all-time high of four million yuan (about $10) for 133 pounds. Before rationing it was 2,900,000 yuan.

A black market spurt in U. S. currency sent the price the price to 400,000 yuan to $1. Three weeks ago it was steady at about 200,000 to $1.

Germany, March 9 (AP)—Two high officials of the American war crimes prosecution staff returned to Nuernberg safely today after 27 hours in the custody of armed Russian soldiers within the Soviet-occupied zone of Germany.

London, March 9 (AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps told Parliament today British economy will collapse unless substantial U. S. aid comes this year.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer said in a white paper that only the Marshall plan can prevent wholesale unemployment, distress and dislocation of production. The summary predicted Britons would get less food and clothing. It said that, without the Marshall plan, there is "no prospect of a decent standard of living for years."

The severe cold of the winter of 1946-47 and the summer drought were blamed for impending reductions. The white paper estimated net national income for the year at $9,000,000,000 ($36,000,000,000) and said Britain is likely to borrow another $250,000,000 ($1,000,000,000) from abroad.

Despite food rationing, introduced last week, the price of rice shot up to an all-time high of four million yuan (about $10) for 133 pounds. Before rationing it was 2,900,000 yuan.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer said in a white paper that only the Marshall plan can prevent wholesale unemployment, distress and dislocation of production. The summary predicted Britons would get less food and clothing. It said that, without the Marshall plan, there is "no prospect of a decent standard of living for years."

The severe cold of the winter of 1946-47 and the summer drought were blamed for impending reductions. The white paper estimated net national income for the year at $9,000,000,000 ($36,000,000,000) and said Britain is likely to borrow another $250,000,000 ($1,000,000,000) from abroad.

VICTORY A.C. DEFEATS LOCAL QUINTET 80-49

The Victory A. C. basketball team of York proved entirely too fast and clever for an all-Gettysburg team on the high school floor Monday evening, winning easily, 80-49.

A slim crowd of less than 200 persons attended the game which was sponsored by the Lentz post of the American Legion.

Bob Hulton's sensational long goal tossing featured the contest as the York Junior college coach hit the hoops for 11 goals and a trio of fouls to account for 25 fouls.

George Fair and George Gorman accounted for 12 and 11 points, respectively, to lead the local dribblers.

In the preliminary game the Gettysburg Bullets, comprised of former Gettysburg high school stars, took the measure of the American Legion team of the Adams County league, 36-27.

Kenny Fair took the scoring honors for the winners with 13 points, while Abe Hankey accounted for eight for the Legionnaires.

Ice No Barrier To US Navy Swimmers

San Diego, Calif., March 9 (AP)—

Navy and Marine corps swimmers for the first time have brushed against Arctic ice in underwater scouting.

This was disclosed today by Vice Adm. George D. Murray, first task fleet commander, in an interview on Alaska exercises.

The rubber-suited swimmers pushed through slush six inches thick and rubbed against four-inch ice in carrying out their missions.

They remained in water down to an estimated four degrees below freezing for periods of more than an hour. They came out then because their beachhead explorations were completed—not because they were exhausted.

Not even during the war did swimmers operate so far north. Attu and Kiska in the Aleutians were retaken without their pre-invasion survey and demolition work.

Spirit Lake in northern Idaho has a bottom of solid stone.

FINALS TODAY IN MIAMI MATCH

Miami, Fla., March 9 (AP)—The $10,000 Miami International Four Ball Golf Tournament hits the finish line today.

Jim Ferrier of San Francisco, the PGA champion, and Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., face Ellisworth Vines of Los Angeles and Ed Furgol of Pontiac, Mich., in the 36-hole finals.

Both teams were surprise finalists. All four seeded teams which included the Hogans, Demarets, Sneads, Lockes and others in a picked field of 32 players from the United States, South Africa and Argentina were knocked off in the early rounds.

It was Middlecoff's first four-ball tournament. He thinks it is a big "grind"—36 holes a day—but he has the steady influence of Ferrier. Big Jim whams the ball a country mile down the middle.

Ferrier and Middlecoff were deadlocked with Herman Kelsor of Akron, Ohio, and Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., on the 31st hole of their semi-finals match yesterday when Jim made the greatest shot of the tournament.

On the 460-yard par five hole, his drive split the fairways for 250 yards. He took a two iron, and the ball split the pin all the way. It came to rest four feet from the cup. He sunk it for an eagle. His team went one up. They picked up another hole on the 35th by merely shooting in par, to win 2 and 1. But the eagle "broke the camel's back."

3-WAY TIE IN MID-ATLANTIC CAGE CIRCUIT

Philadelphia, March 9 (AP)—Ursinus, Swarthmore and Pennsylvania Military college were deadlocked today for the lead in the Southern Division of the Middle Atlantic Basketball conference.

Ursinus brought the division race to a stalemate Saturday by defeating Drexel 62-47 after beating Swarthmore earlier in the week.

Muhlenberg and Moravian have clinched the titles in the Northern and Western Divisions of the conference. Muhlenberg turned the trick in the Northern group Saturday by ending the season undefeated in league play, the last game a 72-40 win over Gettysburg.

Bobby Martz of P.M.C. is the new conference leading scorer with 179 points in 10 games. He supplanted Jim Reilly of Swarthmore who wound up in second place with 161 points in the same number of games.

Dickinson has the inside track for the fourth spot in the conference playoffs. The Red Devils ended the season with a 14-3 record, second best in the state.

Ursinus will meet Swarthmore tonight at Norristown high school with the winner taking on P.M.C. March 11 at Villanova. The March 11 winner will represent the Southern Division in the playoffs.

Muhlenberg defeated LaSalle in the finals last year after Albright and Swarthmore had been eliminated.

TWO OUSTED IN HOCKEY PROBE

Lansing, Mich., March 9 (AP)—National Hockey League President

Clarence S. Campbell today expelled Billy Taylor, New York Ranger hockey player, and suspended Don Gallinger of the Boston Bruins on charges of being associated with gamblers.

Campbell reported the punitive action to Michigan's Governor Kim Sigler.

Campbell had returned to Michigan to announce his decision because Detroit police on Sigler's instructions last week had given the league president information pointing to a link between gamblers and professional hockey players.

The hockey league president expelled Taylor for conduct "prejudicial to and against the welfare of hockey."

He charged that he had sufficient evidence to show that Taylor had "knowingly associated with and communicated with James Tamer, a criminal and known gambler."

DRIVER SENTENCED

Lancaster, Pa., March 9 (AP)—Robert L. Barndt, 33, was sentenced to eight months in jail and fined $200 by Judge Oliver S. Shaffer on charges of involuntary manslaughter and drunken driving. Barndt was sentenced yesterday after pleading guilty to the charges in connection with the death last December 4 of eight-year-old Willis S. Denling Jr., struck by Barndt's car while riding his bicycle several miles east of here.

Egg prices are highest from July through December, and reach a peak about Nov. 1.

Carl Liscombe Has Ten-Point Margin

New York, March 9 (AP)—Carl Liscombe, 32-year-old forward of the Providence Reds, enjoys a commanding ten-point margin in the battle for the American Hockey League's individual scoring honors.

With only five games to go, Liscombe is almost certain of walking off with the crown. The sharp-shooting left winger has collected 104 points on 44 goals and 60 assists.

Liscombe, the only player in the circuit's history to score 100 or more points in a single season, also tops the loop in goal-getting.

Netminder Baz Bastien of the Pittsburgh Hornets continues with the best goals-against average 2.57 and has recorded the most shutouts, four. Hornet defenseman Phil Samis has spent 162 minutes in the penalty box.

EIGHT CONTESTS LISTED TONIGHT ON PIAA CARD

Harrisburg, March 9 (AP)—Two defending district champions and fourteen contenders for title honors are listed for action tonight as the state's scholastic basketball teams near the district finals.

Norristown, seeking its second straight district one championship, meets Bristol in an eastern headliner, while Altoona, defending champion in district six, plays host to Mt. Union.

One of the feature games on the night's list brings together unbeaten Palmerton, led by the sensational Bill Mikvy, against the rugged Mahanoy city five, newly crowned Black Diamond league champions, at Rockne Memorial hall in Allentown.

In the west the fast moving Wilkes-Barre clashes with Ford City in a semi-final encounter leading to the WPAL championship and the right to represent district seven in the state title race.

Other Games

Other games listed for tonight find Shillington and Ephrata meeting at Lebanon in a district three contest; Selinsgrove and Sunbury meeting for the Susquehanna league titles at Bucknell University with the winner moving into the district four semi-finals; Berlin and Conemaugh township battle in district five; and Conemaugh high, winner of 24 games in 25 starts, facing Westmont in a district six semi-final at Johnstown. Plymouth clashes with West Hazleton tomorrow night in a district two semi-final.

Westinghouse has already won the Pittsburgh city championship and the right to represent district eight in the state title race. Champions will be decided in districts seven and eleven on Saturday night. The other eight districts will hold their finals on Tuesday, March 16 to qualify eleven teams for the inter-district competitions that starts on March 19.

VFW Dribblers Win 8th Straight Game

Gettysburg's VFW cagers won their eighth straight game Monday night by easily defeating the Union Bridge five 54 to 45 on the Gettysburg Recreation center floor. It was the third win for the locals over the Union Bridge squad this season.

There was little doubt of the outcome after the first half, although near the end of the second period the teams were deadlocked at 22 and Gettysburg held only a two point lead at half-time.

Two new members of the local squad, "Jimmy" Porter and "Don" Young made their first appearances in the contest, with Porter racking up nine points to his credit and Young getting six.

Monday's game was scheduled to be the last of the season for the local Vets, but two more contests were added Monday evening. Next Monday the team will play the Cavaliers on the recreation center floor.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
GOOD ENOUGH

No effort of ours is ever good enough—if we can do better! It's the good enough folks, who always stay put, who keep digging their groove deeper. They are the dissatisfied ones of this world.

Progress in human affairs has always been the result of someone doing a thing better than it had been done before. Such a procedure is what creates the climber—the one who is not satisfied with staying in the same place for long. He is the one to whose ideas and inspiring creations the world beats a path
that it also may learn.

Good enough never built a city.
It only made mud huts. To the hopeful, to the daring, to the inquiring, and to the inquisitive, we owe all our inspiration toward better things and better times. The good enoughts merely stand along the sidelines, wondering!

Nothing is good enough if it isn't the best that we can do at the time.
Divine discontent is what has created the miracles all through the pages of history. Not just as good as our fathers did things—but better.
And our sons, better than we have done.

I drive to my office each day
over a beautiful highway. This particular section was built all at the same time, but by different contractors. There are sections that are as smooth and solid as when first placed, but others are broken and rough. The latter were apparently constructed by a contractor who thought that he was doing his job good enough. But now the silent lie is his witness that he defrauded
his city—and himself.

Edison didn't think that he had done good enough when he had invented the phonograph or the storage battery or a large number of other useful things. He had to go ahead and invent the electric light —and, had he lived longer, there is no telling what else he might have invented to enrich mankind. Henry Ford was not satisfied with his famous Model T. Good enough was never good enough for him.

Let us ever bear this true fact in mind, that nothing is good enough
if it can be done better—and is there anything that cannot be improved?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Thinking to Myself."

MACARTHUR AND TRUMAN WILL ACCEPT PARTY NOMINATIONS

By JACK BELL

Washington, March 9 (P)—General
MacArthur bid openly for top place on the Republican ticket today, even as President Truman foreclosed his mortgage on the Democratic nomination.

The two announcements—only hours apart in Tokyo and Washington—far overshadowed today's New Hampshire primary, the first actual voting for delegates to the national party conventions in Philadelphia.

MacArthur's message saying he is available but will not actively seek the Presidency caught professional GOP politicians by surprise.

Doesn't Name Party

It put the 68-year-old five star
general in the positive candidate class, along with Gov. Thomas E.
Dewey, of New York, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, former Gov.
Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota and
Gov. Earl Warren of California.

The Supreme Allied Commander
in Japan named no party in his announcement that he would accept "any public duty to which I might be called by the American people."

But his statement took note of the fact that his name has been entered in the Wisconsin Republican primary next month. Also, only 10 days ago, the general sent a message to GOP headquarters in which he said: "The Republican party has never deviated from the proposition that all political power resides in the people."

MacArthur's announcement widened still further an already bulging Republican field.

McGrath Breaks News
And Mr. Truman's decision to run drove a new wedge into the Democratic party split over his civil rights program. His action killed any practical hope of Dixie party members
for a compromise candidate.

Politicians generally agree that now the President has spoken the nomination cannot be denied him.

The President's availability was made known by Democratic Chairman J. Howard McGrath. In the lobby outside Mr. Truman's White House office, McGrath gravely told a ring of reporters: "The President has authorized me to say that if he is nominated by the National Democratic convention, he will accept and run."

Says Truman Can't Win
Menaced by Henry Wallace's independent bid for the Presidency,
the Democratic party has shown signs of falling apart at the seams
because of southern anger over Mr.
Truman's civil rights proposals.

Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.)
told a reporter "There isn't a chance in the world" for Mr. Truman to win in November. The Oklahoma said he is for a ticket made up of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and James A. Farley. Both, however, have said they won't run.

MacArthur supporters will have to counter the sentiments expressed by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower when the former Army chief of staff—and as such MacArthur's boss—knocked his own name out of the race.

In that statement on January 23, Eisenhower said "nothing in the international or domestic situation
especially qualifies for the most important office in the world a man whose adult years have been spent in the country's military forces."

MANY ATTEND

N.Y., told an audience that nearly filled the court house here Monday evening.

Mr. Van Atta spoke here on a tour of the United States as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship. He spoke on "Christian Science: The Religion of Friendship and Healing," and appeared as the guest of the local Christian Science Society. He was introduced by W. L. Tibbets, Jr., of Harrisburg.

"Neglect of the Bible by educational institutions which have crowded out the Scriptures in favor of material theories is responsible for a large measure of present human woes," Mr. Van Atta said.

"We deplore the delinquency of the young while we withhold from them the one book most able to enlighten and guide them," the lecturer declared. "We send them out to fight for democracy while we ignore
the very foundation of democracy.
We spend millions of dollars for medicines which would not be needed
if we would only accept the healing Word of God. We pass multitudes of laws to correct human injustices, whereas an understanding of the things of spirit as set forth in the Bible would prevent such injustices,"
he asserted.

Washington, March 9 (P)—Secretary of Commerce Harrison today
opposed tax reduction at this time, saying its chief effect would be "to raise demand and thereby prices."

But the United States Chamber of Commerce contended that tax cutting is best insurance at hand
against a business slump.

Bristol, tied for second spot with 19's, Ed Plank, Chalfont, and Ernest King, Reigelsville, tied fourth with 18 each.

four days are Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the middle week in September, the same comparable dates as the fair was held in previous years. The exhibits will be placed Tuesday, September 14, and a preview will be held in all probability on the night of September 14.

Seek 250 Guarantors

Two hundred and fifty guarantors for the fair will be sought. Each of the persons will be asked to act
as co-signer with the fair association on a $100 note good for five years. The notes will be used as collateral for the fair, permitting it to borrow money and will be used as a pool, the members voted. In the event of death of any of the guaran-tors the note of that guarantor will be immediately terminated so that it will not encumber the estate.

In the event the fair should fail financially the guarantors would be liable on demand for a pro rata share not to exceed $100 each. It is not anticipated that any demands will ever be made on the notes, the officers pointed out. At no time in the past was demand made on the guarantors. The few times the fair failed to make a profit the association borrowed money to carry it through another year. At the present time the association has over $500
in its treasury.

58 Are Signed

The 58 men who have already signed as guarantors were each given five notes Monday night and urged to secure that many co-signers.

In addition anyone who may wish to be a guarantor may do so by contacting the treasurer, Elmer Warren, at the First National bank
here or the president, Arnold Orner,
at the Arendtsville National bank.

A meeting of the executive committee, made up of the officers of the association, will be held in the near future to select department heads. As soon as the department heads are named they will name their committees to begin preparations for the fair.

URGES ROTARY

costs to increase yield per acre.
Up to harvest time it costs the same whether you get 100 bushels or 500 bushels to the acre. And in that way costs can be cut.

"Last year the apple market was very slow and there will be quantities of hold-over apples from last year competing with the new fruit this year. One reason for that is the bumper citrus crop this year,
which drove the citrus costs down to new lows. As a result people purchased the lower priced fruit."

Says DST Wastes Time
Two "difficulties of farmers" were outlined by Grist during his talk.
One was daylight saving time, which he said "wastes an hour for the farmer in the morning and then in the middle of the afternoon when things are just right for work the men want to end their day's work."

The other difficulty lies in the fact that "farmers are incorrigible independents, loath to get together in any kind of joint action. We need more cooperation to do a better job."

Cameron Hoffman reported that the farm machinery shortage is worse this year than in previous years. There are various reasons for shortages, he said, one of them being shipment of equipment overseas.

"One item alone, wheel type tractors, can serve as an illustration of what is happening. In 1939 approximately 300,000 were shipped overseas. In 1947 more than 800,000 were sent overseas." He said an attempt is being made to have Congress pass legislation limiting exports of farm machinery to a small percentage of that produced.

Dr. C. Harold Johnson, president of the club, presided with 52 present.
Reports on the Harrisburg district convention at which Edmund W.
Thomas, of the local club, was elected district governor were presented by Vice President Mares Sherman and James C. Cairns. Dr. Frederick Tilberg urged members to attend a talk by Mayor McKeldin of Baltimore to be held at the Methodist church.

THREE REVENUE OFFICES OK'D

Washington, March 9 (P)—Pennsylvania's three Internal Revenue Bureau offices received comparatively clean bills of health in reports made public today.

A House Appropriations Subcommittee that studied the money requests of the Treasury and Post Office Departments was highly critical of some districts. Pennsylvania's were passed off with routine reports from the Internal Revenue Bureau.
The Bureau's reports were dated Feb. 24, 1948. They dealt with conditions in 1945 and 1946 and what has been done about them.

Philadelphia: "Chief Field Deputy Collector Edward F. Dooley has paid too much attention to petty details and the administration of the field
division has been pretty much a haphazard affair."

"Deputy Collector Atkinson at Chester, Pa., resigned in June, 1946 and was not checked out. When his work was checked, two post office money orders over a year old for payments on warrants were found.
This probably did not indicate dishonesty on the part of Deputy Collector Atkinson but certainly was evidence of gross carelessness."

New Locomotive Uses Jet Engine

Pittsburgh, March 9 (P)—A new type of railroad locomotive incorporating knowledge gained in the development of jet propulsion aircraft engines was reported yesterday by the Westinghouse Electric corporation, in its annual report to stockholders.

The new locomotive, Westinghouse
said, will be powered with a gas turbine electric drive.

"The aerial-flow compressor, heart
of our jet engines," the firm said,
"also is being adapted to non-aircraft uses. A 2,000 horsepower gas-turbine, suitable for locomotive or industrial use, has demonstrated the soundness of its engineering design
the company is proceeding to build two similar gas turbines for use in a locomotive designed to compete with Diesels in both traction and industrial service."

COUPLE TO WED

A marriage license was issued to-

FINN DELEGATES SELECTED FOR MOSCOW TALKS

Helsinki, March 9 (P)—The Finnish government has named Premier Mauno Pekkala and other delegates to negotiate with Russia over a proposed new treaty, a member of the government said today.

The negotiations will be held in Moscow.

The Finnish cabinet session decided upon the makeup of the delegation at a meeting this afternoon.
Finland's foreign minister, Carl J.
A. Enckell, a non-party man, is vice-chairman of the delegation. He speaks Russian and has been a member of practically all recent Finnish delegations in dealing with the Soviet Union.

Disapprove Military Ideas
Premier Pekkala is a member of the Socialist Union party, which is affiliated with the Communists in Finland's "Democratic Union."

The Russians suggested a friendship and military pact. A majority of the Finnish political parties approved negotiations but disapproved
the idea of a military alliance.

President Juho K. Paasikivi, in accepting Prime Minister Stalin's suggestion to work out such a treaty, proposed yesterday that the negotiations take place in Moscow.
Stalin's earlier letter said either Helsinki or Moscow would be all right with him.

The president's decision climaxed
two weeks of conferences with government officials and party leaders.
His final action was taken after a 90-minute conference with the cabinet.

A foreign office spokesman said Paasikivi's reply might be sent to Moscow today. Its contents have been kept secret, for the present.

A government official said security reasons prompted the cabinet to suggest Moscow as the site for the talks. If a Soviet delegation came to the Finnish capital, he said, elaborate precautions would have to be taken.

Girl, 8, Breaks Her Leg For 15th Time

Cleveland, March 9 (P)—Eight-year-old Sally Ann Mental has broken a leg for the 15th time.

The little girl first fractured a leg
when only 20 months old as she was learning to walk. Last year she had two broken legs, one in July and one in September.

The family doctor said she might outgrow her complaint.

The latest fracture occurred when a public school bus which carries Sally to Sunbeam School for Crippled Children stopped quickly, throwing her from her seat.

SAYS U.S. PLANS FOR GERMANY TO ATTACK RUSSIA

By THOMAS F. WHITNEY
Moscow, March 9 (AP)—Russia maintained today that the United States is engineering a Western Power scheme to divide Europe and increase military strength in Germany for aggression against the Soviet Union.

In a note to the United States, Britain and France, Russia declared the Western Powers are trying to build up military potential in the Ruhr so as to "turn Western Europe into a strategic base for American imperialism in Europe with the purpose of aggression against the U.S.S.R."

The note was made public last night at a news conference. Russian officials said it was delivered Saturday. It did not say what action the government intends to take on its interpretation of events.

Reject British Reply
The Soviet note rejected a British reply to an earlier Russian protest against a recent three power conference in London on Germany's future. That conference, the Soviet note charged, violated the Potsdam agreement of 1945.

(The conferees agreed Saturday on future international control of the Ruhr and a federalization form of government for Western Germany.)

In addition, the Russian note contended, the major Western Powers are trying to liquidate the four-power council of foreign ministers.

Charge "Split" Attempt
Britain and America merged their occupation zones in Western Germany so that they would not have to demilitarize that area "nor liquidate their military enterprises in Germany," the Russian note declared.

It further charged the United States wants to split Europe into two camps, and "include schismatic Western Germany in the western bloc." To this end, the note declared, the Western Powers are paralyzing the allied control council in Germany, and want to liquidate the council of foreign ministers "in order to get rid of all constraints which might hinder the conduct of such a policy as the council of foreign ministers could not agree upon."

Oldtimers Recall Early Luther M. Alleman Store Here; Employees Had Pitch-Battle With Spading Men; Extensive Operation Failed After 7 Years' Business

The teams, drivers, salesmen and clerks of the Luther M. Alleman Hardware and Grocery store of Littlestown and Gettysburg lined up on Center square in front of the Hotel Gettysburg on Thanksgiving Day, 1905, to have the above photograph taken. Several employees of the Alleman company—who appear in the picture—were consulted with the following results: Standing with the horse and wagon at the left of the picture and standing beside the white horse at the right are the DeWeiss brothers, with the "old timers" unable to determine which was which. Standing on the wagon to the (right) rear is Albert Minnick, who with the DeWeiss

For seven years at the turn of the century one of the largest establishments in Gettysburg was the Alleman hardware store—and although the store has been gone for 40 years, stories about its founder and owner, Luther M. Alleman still are heard when "oldtimers" tell of the "good old days."

Starting in 1899, "Alleman's Hardware and Grocery company, Gettysburg and Littlestown" grew to tremendous proportions and then disappeared in bankruptcy in 1907. It was succeeded by the Gettysburg Department store which waxed prosperous for some time and which was sold prior to the purchase of the building on Baltimore street by the Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion. Calvin Shank, who at one time was an employee of Alleman, purchased the Gettysburg Department store and changed the name to the Gettysburg Hardware store. He occupied the first floor of the Legion building. Shank has since moved to the former People's Cash store site at the northwest corner of Baltimore and West Middle streets.

Had 30 Employees
At one time Alleman had salesmen calling on merchants throughout this section and at homes selling Alleman merchandise. Each day wagons were loaded at the Alleman warehouses and were driven through the countryside to deliver the goods purchased through the salesmen. Upwards of 30 persons were employed by Alleman in various departments of the store, some in groceries, some in hardware, some in queensware, some in connection with the wholesale business conducted in connection with it.

Luther M. Alleman was able to boast in an advertisement that he had a carload of rat traps for sale. Actually, according to some of the surviving employees, the number of rat traps was only about five gross.

"Tons of Candy"
The store advertised "tons of candy" for sale. An advertisement offering 10,000 pounds of candy for sale was not a rarity.

Each week the "Compiler" and other newspapers of the day carried large advertisements, some full page in size, detailing the wares of the Alleman store.

At the beginning of 1907 the store ran an advertisement wishing all a happy new year, stating that in the previous year it had done more business than ever before and hoping it would do as well during the coming year.

But Alleman apparently had overextended his purchases of stock. Alleman advertisements, shortly after the beginning of 1907, disappeared from the papers and on June 30, 1907, an advertisement appeared: "Selling Off at Cost. Alleman Store, W. T. Ziegler, R. L. Ehrhart, J. P. Hartman, trustees of Alleman Hardware store."

"Exciting Days"

The Compiler on the same date ran an editorial stating that "hopes had been entertained by many friends of the store that those most interested would intervene to prevent its closing. It had built up a very large trade, not only in the town and county but in neighboring counties and did a remarkable business in the course of the year. It was thought that any store with such a large volume of trade should continue in business. But that event did not occur."

There were many exciting days between the opening of the store and its closing. Three things stand out in the minds of those who clerked accompanying photograph taken. enormous quantities anything that he might feel worth buying, and his habit of doing things on the spur of the moment, such as having the accompanying photograph taken.

"Fight And Fire"
Two other events were the great fire that wiped out much of the Alleman warehouse properties along the Western Maryland railroad on February 22, 1906 and the "pitched battle" between the "Alleman forces" and the "Spalding army."

"Captain Frank Dougherty led the Alleman forces" a local newspaper reported concerning the "fight," Dougherty recalls.

Charles Spalding owned the property on which the Alleman warehouses were located, Dougherty said today. One morning, prior to the time of the fire, Spalding decided to remove the Alleman materials from the Spalding property. Forces from the Alleman store were dispatched to the warehouse, Dougherty recollects. Additional forces were secured by Spalding. Throughout the entire morning and during part of the afternoon the opposing forces had a tug-of-war over wagons, buggies and other Alleman equipment stored in the warehouse.

Spalding was determined the articles should be removed; the Alleman forces were just as determined the material should stay. No one was injured and nobody was hit by anything except by "accident." The Spaldings finally lost the battle by withdrawing after having been able to remove only a small quantity of the Alleman produce, which Spaldings "stored" in North Stratton street.

$60,000 Blaze
The big fire wiped out much of the box factory and packing shed adjoining the warehouse and also burned about half of the warehouse causing about $60,000 damage. Local mythology has it that the fire burned until it reached a carload of matches in the warehouse and halted just about a foot short of the matches. Employees of the company at the time fail to recall any great quantity of matches in the structure, or the fire being anywhere near it.

SUPREME COURT RULES SCHOOLS CANNOT BE USED BY CHURCH UNITS

By PAUL M. YOST
Washington, March 9 (AP)—Eight Supreme Court justices agree that religious sects may not use America's public schools to teach their beliefs.

ELEPHANTS CAN'T VOTE

Chapter 10

"Sure, I'm satisfied that Fortune is backing this lawsuit," Eddie Gale agreed. "But there's no sense in telling that to Framingham. Not until we can prove our case in court, anyhow."

"Suppose we don't get that kind of proof," Carolyn countered. "Meanwhile, we'll be letting Fortune cheat Framingham and everyone who really wants a good zoo."

"If Framingham fires him now, the museum management will be 'We're still on trial here, with plenty of politicians waiting to throw us out.'"

"I don't like it," Carolyn objected. "It's as though we were trying to cheat Framingham ourselves."

"Not at all," he said, and the contradiction lost some of its sting in the warm grin that accompanied it. He continued seriously, and with quiet forcefulness: "Our main job is to keep this shaky setup on its feet until its strong enough to hit its own stride. That's why we should keep silent about Fortune now."

"All right," she agreed reluctantly. "Will you try it that way for a while. But I wonder how many of the other zoo employers are in with Fortune on this scheme?"

"Not more than a few, I'd guess," Gale said. "Even the ones Fortune hired don't trust him. I think they'd be all for the Museum if we did something to show our friendship. Beyond what's due them under civil service—they know we owe that to them."

"There's an idea for ME to work on!" Carolyn responded quickly. "Think I'll see what I can dream up."

He put his arms around her shoulders, pulling her close to his chest, and kissing her lips, softly at first and then with an ardor that swept all zoo and publicity problems from her mind. When he released her, she gave a pleased gasp.

"I'll dream on that," she said laughingly.

"Mind if I do the same?" he asked, as he turned to leave.

Carolyn found her dreams and plans frequently jumbled after that. Of their immediate and concrete results, however, she produced an idea which she offered to Framingham the following day.

"I was thinking that this lawsuit hasn't helped the morale of the zoo staff who used to work for the city," she told him. "Do you think it might be worthwhile to hold some sort of a social affair where the keepers and their wives could meet you and the other Museum directors?"

Framingham leaned back in his upholstered leather-covered swivel chair, touching his fingertips together as he studiously considered the suggestion. His naturally grave face seemed to lighten by slight degrees as he thought it over.

"It would be a bit unprecedented," he said at last. "But I think the idea is an excellent one. I shall look into the arrangements immediately."

"Is there any way I can help?" Carolyn asked. "I had a few minor suggestions that you could possibly use."

Framingham dismissed the offer with a cordial but sweeping finality.

"Thank you, my dear," he said. "You've already done far more than I could have expected. But the arrangement of these large social gatherings is really a task for a full committee." He removed his glasses and looked abstractly out of the window. "I think the women of the museum committee and the wives of the zoo employees might work out a very successful garden party."

Carolyn had a sudden vision of Mrs. Watson Willburn, the elderly tyrant of the museum women's committee, arranging party details with Mrs. Joe Simulko, substantial and forthright mate of the assistant bear-keeper.

"Framingham, you poor old woolly lamb!" she confided to herself in strict confidence as he left his office. "So wise in the law, but so un-hip to women. Am I glad I'm out of that deal!"

Major rifts and crevasses appeared in the committee structure almost immediately as the ladies went to work on each other and, occasionally, the party plans. But enough of its shaken remnants survived to bring out an equal number of social leaders and zoo-keepers wives when the party began on a disarmingly pleasant afternoon.

The tables filled up rapidly and without conspicuous incident until Mrs. Dominick Petrone, spouse of the deer-and-elm custodian, sat down as the fourth in a three-way discussion of the servant problem.

"Really, my dears," Mrs. Mortimer McAllister was saying as she maintained a rigid unawareness of the latest arrival. "I don't see how one can keep a maid these days. We teach them everything we know—and they leave us for some factory job or other!"

"They've got their nerve," said Mrs. Petrone unexpectedly. "You'd think they had nothing to do but earn a living. Do you suppose we'll all be driven back to work?"

But the tension at that table was exceeded when Mrs. Watson Willburn, reviewing the guests from her table, sighted a man in a brown, pasture-stained overalls advancing through the seated crowd.

"Who is that utterly incredible person?" she demanded in tones that rang through the assembly. The man in the stained overalls looked up, startled, as all eyes centered on him. But if Mike Moroney was a timid thing, at home only with the gentler zoo animals, Mrs. Moroney was not. She heaved her 200-pound frame around in the chair opposite Mrs. Willburn with all battle flags unfurled.

"That person," she answered furiously, "is my husband—and I'll thank you to be a lot more civil!"

"Indeed," snapped Mrs. Willburn. "And am I to heed the comments of some upstart?"

"Upstart, am I? Upstart?" Mrs. Moroney fairly screamed. She picked up her handbag, loaded with a miscellany of weighty articles, and brought it crashing down on Mrs. Willburn's Lily Dache hat.

Chapter 11

Two days after the garden party debacle, Carolyn called at Lamont Framingham's office to discuss details of the zoo-improvement campaign. She made the visit with the utmost reluctance, fearing that the Museum chairman would still be angry over the failure of the party. The fact that he alone had created the ill-assorted committee which caused its collapse afforded her little consolation.

"He'll probably figure his dignity is at stake," she decided, when she was about to enter his office. "And how that man can lead up on dignity? Looks like I'm about to become the patsy."

Her first sight of him as she entered his private office gave her a temporary sensation of panic, a desire to flee without a word. Framingham, wearing his most impressive frown, was stalking up and down the office carpet, his hands clasped behind him.

"How did you enjoy the garden party?" he asked solemnly.

Carolyn reached a swift decision. Everything was lost anyhow, so why not sink with guns firing?

"It reminded me a little of the French Revolution," she said.

Framingham halted his pacing. His hands unclasped, his solemn face relaxed, and he bent over, nearly double, slopping his thigh with his palm. A veritable bellow of laughter issued from his mouth.

"Thunderation!" he exclaimed between gasps of mirth. "If I live until the millennium, I'll never see anything as uproarious! The expression on Mrs. Willburn's face when she saw the purse hit her!" He laughed so violently that he had to sit down suddenly, fighting to recover his breath. "Oh my Lord! What a come-uppance!"

Knowing the brevity of Framingham's relaxed moments, Carolyn was not inclined to exceed their rigid limits. She would, in fact, have been thoroughly alarmed if she had known at that moment the test that Eddie Gale was about to put to Framingham's rare moods of geniality.

Eddie was not thinking about Framingham's moods at all, just then. Prompted by a personal impulse to put some new energy in the lagging zoo campaign, he had persuaded an old newspaper crony to accompany him to the cage of Oscar, the Lakeport Zoo's trained chimpanzee.

"This campaign needs a shot in the arm," he told the reporter. "I've got an idea that ought to put some zing in it, and make a swell feature, too." He pointed significantly to Oscar, who had clambered up on the front bars of his cage and was regarding his visitors with a slantwise stare of curiosity.

The reporter held his nose distastefully.

"Not an interview with a talking animal!" he protested immediately. "That was corny when Noah covered the Ark." He looked at Gale with a mixture of sympathy and disdain. "Cripes, Eddie—have you lost your touch since you got out of the news trade?"

"Wait a minute, wait a minute!" Gale interjected. "Don't accuse me of that! What I want to do is psycho-analyze this chimp."

"Maybe YOU need the treatment worse than he does," the reporter suggested.

"Listen, Jim—will you? I'll dress you up in a surgical gown—the zoo vet will lend us his—and I'll shoot a picture of you studying Oscar."

"Suppose Oscar decides to measure my nose for an apple?" the reporter asked. "How will I be able to smell the kind of story you want me to write?"

"The idea is this: Oscar has been feeling blue because the zoo campaign is bogging down," Eddie explained patiently. "You come along as an eminent ape-analyst and diagnose his worries. All he needs is a successful zoo drive; presto, he's back in good spirits. You can gag the thing up any way you want; give it both barrels—the gootier the better."

"It doesn't lack for innuency," the reporter admitted. He rubbed his stubbled chin for a moment. "This is unquestionably the nuttiest thing I've ever seen, bar none. I guess that's just why I'll give it a whirl."

The story, when it appeared the following day, had everything that Gale could have hoped for. There was a laugh in every paragraph.

"Maybe that will coax a little money out of our public," Gale concluded with satisfaction when he had finished reading the feature. "Get a man's good will with a laugh, and he feels more generous."

He sat in his photographic studio, feeling quite pleased with the whole project, when the phone rang at his elbow.

"Hello, Carolyn," he said gaily. "How'd you like my little stimulant for the zoo drive?"

There was a perceptible delay in Carolyn's reply. When it came, it was sizzling:

"How could you dare to pull a fool thing like that?" she demanded in a fury. "I'm supposed to be the publicity director, and you just barge in and upset everything. Naturally, you don't bother to tell me, just throw me in hot water and let me boil. And don't worry—I'm boiling plenty!"

"What's the matter?" he asked, full of injured pride. "Jealous because I scooped you?"

"Scooped me? Why, I ought to... Carolyn became momentarily speechless. "Your brilliant scoop really did it, believe me! Mr. Framingham is purple with rage; and of course, he thinks I staged the whole stupid thing. I AM the publicity director—even if the idea hasn't spread to your great mind yet! Heaven only knows how much longer I'll have the job, thanks to your little project!"

"Well, the story plugged the campaign, didn't it?" he asked defensively.

"Yes—just like a bullet from an elephant gun!" she shot back.

"Oh, horsefeathers," he said lamely. "I'll try to straighten things out with the old fuddy-duddy."

"Don't try it with me—I've heard all I want from you!" she exclaimed, banging down the receiver and bursting into tears.

NEW US-RUSSIA SPLIT IS SEEN ON PALESTINE

Lake Success, March 9 (AP)—The first major split between the United States and Russia on the Palestine partition problem is in prospect today.

The American delegation is understood to be insisting that the big powers call in the Jews and Arabs in a move to conciliate their differences. This is in line with U. S. efforts to find a peaceful solution in the Holy Land crisis.

Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko has described such proposals as worthless and time-wasting in the light of past failures on this tack. He refused to support conciliation sections of an American proposal in the United Nations Security council last week. The question remained as to how far Gromyko would go in fighting the American idea or what alternative, if any, he would offer.

British Question

The other big question before a big-power meeting set for around 4 p. m. (EST) was whether Britain would accept a special and carefully phrased invitation to enter consultations on the Holy Land.

Shortly after the opening meeting of the U. S., Russia, France and China delegates in New York city yesterday voted the invitation. Britain's Sir Alexander Cadogan said in a written reply to a query from the Associated Press:

"I have not yet given any definite acceptance. I don't suppose I shall decide my action till tomorrow (Tuesday)."

Britain boycotted the first meeting on the ground she could not take part in any discussions designed to implement the partitioning of Palestine. This was in keeping with Britain's past policy of refusing to help carry out any Holy Land solution not acceptable to both Jews and Arabs. The Arabs bitterly opposed partition; Zionists support it.

STUDY SHAKE-UP IN STATE DEPT.

Washington, March 9 (AP)—A shake-up of the way the State Department operates is under study.

Persons familiar with the detailed reorganization plan said today its main objective is to tighten the workings of the big department, which has taken on many new duties since the end of the war. Whether the plan actually will be carried out, however, remains to be decided by Secretary Marshall and President Truman.

It is understood to assign major authority for the day to day operations of American foreign policy to four assistant secretaries. They would be responsible, respectively, for United States relations with (a) Europe, (b) Latin America, (c) the Far East and (d) the Middle East and Africa.

In addition there would be either three or four other assistant secretaries to handle relations (both domestic and foreign), economic affairs, United Nations affairs and possibly the administration of occupied areas, such as Germany and Japan.

Tokyo, March 9 (AP)—The U. S. First Cavalry division checked personnel records today to determine the number of casualties in a fire which destroyed three barracks at Camp McGill. Two soldiers are believed to have died in the fire yesterday. Division headquarters said eight men were burned—none seriously—attempting to save government property.

WEST EUROPE PRODUCES BIT OF SUNSHINE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Maybe we are over-optimistic because spring is just around the corner, but the developments in Western Europe reflect a considerable burst of sunshine as we near the end of a tough and discouraging winter.

Two momentous international conferences have produced results which bid fair to go a long way toward achieving economic rehabilitation and peace for Western Europe. And such a happy development would, of course, be a step in the direction of world rehabilitation and peace. I hasten to add that I'm not for a moment suggesting our worries are nearing an end, or anything like it. But the more peace-mindedness we can cultivate, the better.

The conferences referred to are the Brussels parley to consider ways and means of forming a union of Western European nations, and the American-British French discussions in London regarding the future of Western Germany and the Ruhr. Both these meetings have met with unexpected success in laying the foundations upon which important structures may be built.

General Agreement

The Brussels conference, which is continuing, is among Britain, France and the so-called Benelux countries—Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. Already they have laid down the political and legal basis of a Western European economic and military union. It is stated that there is general agreement on the basic principles of a 50-year pact binding the five countries although considerable work remains to be done before the formal pact can be phrased. The hope is that the rest of the 16 Western European nations will join.

The London conference dovetails into the Brussels meeting and into the Marshall plan. The three powers have announced agreement on future international control of the great industrial Ruhr, with the participation of Western Germany. The proposals contain important incentives for the German people to work for close association with the western world.

Perhaps the full significance of this move can be shown better by putting the situation like this: Without Germany, the rehabilitation of Western Europe would be doubtful; with it, there is no reason why there shouldn't be success, if we get peace.

Dewey, Stassen Matched Today

Concord, N. H., March 9 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, matched strength today in New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation Republican presidential primary.

Prospective delegates of both indicated they would throw their support to Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich) if a second choice became necessary later.

Clear, crisp weather assures a heavy vote in the nation's first test at the ballot box in the 1948 campaign. It was estimated up to 55,000 voters would turn out. It's a Republican show as President Truman is unopposed in the Democratic primary for his party's endorsement.

Dewey and Stassen are the only Republican candidates with full delegate slates in the field.

home. In the gunfight that followed the officers and Dipoli were wounded. Dipoli and Wilson were captured again after a nine-hour search.

The unofficial death toll for communal warfare in Palestine since the November 29 partition decision has reached 1,641.

Set Up Timetable On Marshall Plan

Washington, March 9 (AP)—Top House Republicans arranged a huddle with Senate GOP leaders today to work out a stepped-up timetable for the Marshall plan.

The meeting was called by chairman Eaton (R-NJ) of the Foreign Affairs committee at the urgent plea of Secretary of State Marshall for enactment of the European recovery program by April 1.

Marshall went to the Capitol yesterday to press his case before Speaker Martin (R-Mass).

Eaton told reporters that Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the Senate Foreign Affairs committee and other Senate Leaders would be invited to discuss the problem with him, Martin and Majority Leader Halleck (R-Ind.).

Policeman Dies After Gunfight

Pittsburgh, March 9 (AP)—Joseph Chmelynski, 26, one of two policemen shot Friday night in a gunfight, died today in Mercy hospital. George Kercher, 46, the other officer, was reported recovering in the same hospital.

County detectives are holding Edward Dipoli 23, and John Wilson, 26, of Pittsburgh on a charge of burglary in the case. The wounded officers said they caught Dipoli and Wilson robbing a Bethel township

Laundry Drivers Return To Work

Philadelphia, March 9 (AP)—Drivers for 70 of the city's major laundries voted last night to end their 15 day old strike and return to work today.

Members of Local 187, commission salesmen, drivers and helpers (AFL) voted 351 to 309 in favor of accepting the offer made by the laundry board of trade, representing the 70 laundries.

The pact accepted by the union's members provides for a uniform five-day week and a two-week vacation for drivers with more than five years' service. The vacation plan will go into effect in 1949.

James J. Stoltz, secretary-treasurer of the local which represents some 1,200 drivers, said the offer included continuation of present wage scale under which drivers receive $13 a week plus 14 per cent of gross commission, with a minimum guarantee of $42.50 weekly. Stoltz said wholesale laundry drivers will get $50 for a 45-hour week in place of the present $45 for a 50-hour week.

Keeps Sending Cash To Clerk Of Courts

Ebensburg, Pa., March 9 (AP)—Clerk of Court Joseph Wess wishes he could locate Mike Buydos and get him to stop sending in those one dollar payments every week.

Wess said yesterday that in 1937 Buydos was ordered by the court to pay a $128.37 doctor bill after an argument with Lester Krouse.

Since then, Wess said, Buydos has been mailing in a dollar every week from various addresses—and now the total amounts to $570.

The first payment, Wess said, was postmarked Newton Falls, Ohio, but as usual the letters returning the dollar was sent back marked "Address Unknown."

Baltimore Livestock

CATTLE-Run included the equivalent of about 25 loads of slaughter steers. Quality was mostly good but on the whole not as good as last week. Balance of the receipts consisted largely of cows. Very few heifers and only a small lot of stock cattle were included. A good representation of buyers was present but demand in general was weak and with the exception of bulls slaughter prices turned lower. Slaughter steers moved to the scales on a steady to 25cde lower basis with late sales showing the full decline and in some cases more than 50c under last Thursday. Best action noted on under 1100 lb. weights, but these also under pressure late. Average to High-Good steers, $26.75-28.00. Three loads, 1200-1300 lb., few head of Choice in the shipment included at latter price. Bulk of the Medium to Average-Good, $23-25.50.

Heifer supplies consisted of scattered small lots of Medium and Good that held about steady with late last week. Sales, $20-24, a few head Cutter and Common grades, $15.50-17. Cows rather slow by at unevenly steady to 25cde lower prices. A few good grade cows, $21-22. Most of the Common and Medium cows, $18.50-20.50. Canners and Cutters, $14-15.50, in most cases, but a few strongweights Cutters $18, and odd head Shelly Canners, $12 and below.

There was a good demand for bulls and prices fully steady to strong with late last week. Good beef bulls, $24.75. Similar grade steers, $21-23, and a few head of Choice, $21-23. Common and Medium hogs, $17-20.50. Hardly enough steers or feeder steers included in the receipts to test the price schedule. A small lot of Good ground 650 lb. stock steers, $22.25, nominally unchanged compared with late last week.

ALYVES-Although demand was not particularly broad all classes of calves met a steady market compared with last week's finish. Good and Choice 180-250 lb. hogs, scarce, mainly, $26.30, top 300. Common and Medium $18.25, with under 100 lb. Common kinds around $18 down. Culls, $10 and occasionally below. Weighty slaughter calves scarce but quoted steady at up to $25 for Good and Choice kinds.

HOGS-All weights and grades of hogs, $1 from last Friday's selling levels. Trading only moderately active at the decline. Good and Choice, 180-225 lb. hogs, and gilts, $23.50, the top. Comparable grade 120-140 pounders, $23-25; 140-160 lb., $22.25; 160-180 lb., $21.25; 225-250 lb., $23; 250-275 lb., $21.50; 275-300 lb., $20.50; 300-400 lb., $19.50. Good and Choice hogs weighing 400 lb. and less, $18. Heavier weights at varying discounts, from $17.50.

SHEEP-Hardly enough lambs or ewes on offer to permit an accurate comparison of prices. Quotations nominally steady for all classes. A small lot of Good and Low-Choice wooled slaughter lambs, $23, but the top quotation still $25. Good and Choice wooled slaughter ewes, $10.

Lumber Firm Head Is Found Dead In Devon

Devon, Pa., March 9 (AP)—Harry Krichieff, 50-year-old Philadelphia lumber company head, was found dead in a gas-filled 30-room mansion last night.

Chester County Coroner Cooper C. Bishop said Krichieff, president of the Commerce Lumber and Supply Co. and the Eagle Specialty Co., both Philadelphia, apparently had taken his own life.

State police said Krichieff's body was discovered by the return home of Leon Strickland, employed by the Commerce Lumber firm, who had been living at the mansion as a caretaker. Krichieff bought the house recently, police said, as an investment. His home was in Philadelphia.

Strickland told them, state police said, that Krichieff had been in poor health in the last few months.

It has been estimated that the main underground water level in the United States has been lowered 10 to 40 feet by cutting of forests and cultivation of the land.

PRODUCTION OF MESON BIG STEP FOR SCIENTISTS

By RENNIE TAYLOR

(Associated Press Science Reporter)
Berkeley, Calif., March 9 (AP)—Atomic science got off to an exciting new start today with man-made mesons, mighty particles which heretofore have been produced only by nature.

The achievement ends a notable race among scientists in America, Europe and perhaps elsewhere. They agreed that artificial production of a meson would be the greatest thing in atomic research since the discovery of uranium fission in 1939, which led to the atom bomb.

Production of mesons in the laboratory for the first time was announced yesterday by Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, famed atom smasher, and James B. Fisk, research director of the Atomic Energy commission.

Best Scientific Tool

The potent particles, which eventually may point the way to atomic energy far greater than that produced by the atom bomb, were produced in the University of California's 4,000-ton cyclotron.

Dr. Lawrence said laboratory mesons will give scientists their best tool for finding out just what particles there are in the nuclei of atoms.

Mesons are important because they are the most powerful particles known to science and because they have something to do with nuclei which researchers must learn about before they can solve any remaining atomic mysteries.

In nature they come from the upper air. Presumably they are born when the nucleus of a speeding

100 KILLED IN CHINA BLAST

Shanghai, March 9 (AP)—A Chinese ammunition dump exploded at Tsingtao today, leveling a city block and causing 250 casualties. An estimated 100 were killed.

U. S. Navy sources here said the explosion occurred just before noon, within half a mile of docks where the USS Estes, flagship of the American western Pacific fleet, and the Navy hospital ship, Repose, are tied up.

Tsingtao is the Chinese base of the U. S. Navy's western Pacific fleet.

There were no immediate reports of casualties among American personnel at Tsingtao. The explosion, set off by an undetermined cause, swept an area east of the docks. Resulting fires left a mass of blackened ruins in a wide sector.

The Repose and all available U. S. Navy medical facilities afloat and ashore immediately gave assistance. The fires raged for two hours.

hydrogen atom hits an atom of oxygen or some other matter in the air and explodes it. Mesons are products of these explosions. Some have been rated as having energies of hundreds of billions of volts. The energy produced in uranium atom explosions is only 200 million volts.

PLAN TO PAINT

north end of the building have ever been painted, except the nurses' room, and need painting. The committee recommended that this be done.

4. There is a leak on the wall in Miss Ruth McIlhenny's room, believed to come from the flashing. Repairs will be made.

5. A windowsill in a room in the north end needs repair.

6. The entire exterior of the building needs repair, and the committee recommended it be done.

The report was made by George T. Raffensperger, chairman of the property committee. Lights in the old gym and other parts of the building have been repaired, he said, but the spotlight on top of the building still is not working.

On motion of Mahlon P. Hartzell, seconded by Mr. Raffensperger, the board voted to get prices on paint and employ painters for both the exterior and interior work. The painting will not be done until after the close of school.

Speeding Near School

The board, after discussing reports of fast driving on Hanover street endangering the lives of children attending the Lincoln school, recommended to the borough council that steps be taken to eliminate the hazard.

Director Charles Black, former president of the board, brought up the question and reported that he had taken the matter up with Wilbur J. Stallsmith, borough councilman and chairman of the safety committee. Mr. Black said that Mr. Stallsmith had promised to bring the matter to the attention of the council.

Installation of signs, "School, Slow" and "No Passing" as well as painted markings on the streets were suggested.

"All school buildings ought to be protected by these signs," Superintendent Keefe commented.

Ray J. Kitzmiller made the observation that speeders on Hanover street would in most cases be local drivers since strangers would slow down at the Lincoln school intersection to determine first which way to go.

Take School Census

"Enforcement would cut down this speeding," Mr. Black said, but added that he did not expect much could be done before the re-opening of school in the fall.

Other board members disagreed, however. "We want action now, not next fall," Mr. Raffensperger said. "A child can be killed between now and the end of the school year as well as later," he added.

The board authorized Dr. Keefe to have a school census taken, at a cost of between $150 and $200, of all children in the borough between the ages of six and 18. "We have a continuing census," Dr. Keefe said, "but we want an accurate, up to date one." A school nurse will probably be employed to take it, he said.

There will be no change made in the penmanship course now in use in the public schools, Dr. Keefe reported.

Rent Auditorium

The board granted the use of the high school auditorium to the Gettysburg Lions club for its forthcoming minstrel show, at a price of $15 a night, and fixed a price of $15 a night for the use of the old gymnasium by the Adams County Independent Basketball league for its playoff games next week. It agreed to allow the track teams at Gettysburg college to use the track at the high school this year, for practice. No home track meets are scheduled by the college. The latter's new track is not ready for use, it was reported.

Some members of the board took exception to a letter from the Rotary club relative to the High Street school and the club's request for an inspection of the building by state authorities to determine whether the building is a fire trap, etc.

The Rotary club said unfavorable reports on the school had been current for some time from parents and others, and it sought to learn definitely the condition of the building, erected in 1857.

Mr. Raffensperger objected to the building being called a fire trap. He said that he had inquired of four teachers in the building, and they informed him that no parents had come to the building and inspected it.

Denies "Trap"

"It is not a fire trap," he countered. "It can be emptied of its 197 pupils in 40 seconds, which is faster than at any other school in the borough. There are four outside exits."

Dr. Keefe reported that the adult recreation program at the high school was "accomplishing excellent results" and had been working well with the exception of the golf lessons.

"The golfing course damaged the floor in the old gym," he reported, "and I issued an ultimatum that there was to be no more golf instructions unless protection was furnished to the floor. The matter was turned over to Paul Whitmoyer, recreation director."

Dr. Keefe announced that plans have been nearly completed for the commencement exercises. The Majestic theater has been obtained, and the combined baccalaureate and graduation exercises will have Dr. Frank A. Sharp, pastor of the Union Baptist church, Pittsburgh, as speaker.

Protests Snow Dumping

Mr. Raffensperger protested the dumping of the borough of snow removed in the downtown area by the snow-loader on garden land adjoin-

Life Of Boy, 9, Is Saved By New Drug

Baltimore, March 9 (AP)—A nine-year-old boy lay critically ill in Sydenham hospital, suffering a skin eruption with a secondary infection that ordinarily would lead to death.

Doctors administered huge doses of the wonder drugs Streptomycin and penicillin. They did not help.

Then they called Johns Hopkins hospital physicians who have been experimenting with a new, powerful germ-killer, polymyxin.

The Hopkins scientists injected the drug in the form of a white powder, underneath his skin. Three days later, the eruption began to clear. He was well after eight days.

The unnamed boy was the first human to be treated with polymyxin.

ing Winebrenner's Run. Dr. Keefe said no permission had been asked or granted. The dumping of the snow left stones and other refuse on land which residents of the borough had spent considerable time clearing for gardens," Mr. Raffensperger said.
